GENERAL CONDITIONS

Article 1: Every assignment to “TCP” will be concluded according to the following conditions that govern the commercial relations between the Parties. These general conditions do not detract from the regulations and customs of the Port of Montevideo.

Article 2: The task consists of all activities of a manual or non-manual nature relating to the loading, unloading, handling, receiving, controlling, tallying, delivering goods, warehousing, and transportation within the terminal area, including all related and subordinate activities. This enumeration is not limitative. “The Customer” is the one who gives the order to “TCP”. “TCP” is the one who accepts this order and executes it or has it executed.

Article 3: “TCP” is only liable for the damages and/or losses that are the direct consequence of its proven fault. The liability of “TCP” is limited to USD 875 per package and USD 125 per ton for bulk Cargo. Maximum liability, regardless of the number of packages for each claim of damage, shall in no case exceed USD 2.500 with a deductible of USD 1.500. For damages caused to the ship or means of transport, the compensation is based on the depreciated value and the maximum liability shall not exceed USD 50.000 with a deductible of USD 15.000. In case of convergence of several claims relating to damages caused to the ship or means of transport, losses and/or damages of goods or materials made available by “the Customer” or by third Parties, the total liability shall not exceed USD 50.000 with a deductible of USD 15.000, irrespective of the number of prejudiced Parties. “TCP” is not responsible for time lost for any reason. TCP will only be liable for damages caused to containers after it is proven that said damages were the direct consequence of TCP’s actions. made its best efforts to prevent such failure or delay. For the purpose of this article, the term "Force Majeure" shall include acts of God, lightning, earthquakes, fire, floods, epidemics, strikes, lockouts or other industrial disturbances, acts of public enemies, wars, whether declared or undeclared, blockades, sabotage and/or other events that are completely out of the will and consent of "TCP". If either Party is affected by an event of force majeure, it will forthwith notify the other Party of the nature and extent of such force majeure and the Parties will enter into bona fide discussions in an attempt to alleviate its effects and to agree upon such alternative arrangements as may be fair, reasonable and practicable, the Party affected by a force majeure being under the obligation to give the full particulars thereof and to use its best efforts to minimize the effect of said occurrence and to take the necessary remedial measures. Weather conditions; defect in the goods and/or the packing; flooding, natural disaster, explosion and fire, whoever or whatever may be the cause thereof; error of third Parties and/or of "the Customer"; errors, delays, unforeseen costs, due to changes in the reporting systems by "non-TCP" parties; failure to communicate or incorrect communication of data or instructions by "the Customer" and/or by third Parties; any claims resulting from an unforeseeable defect of the equipment of "TCP"; any liability arising out of the following operations: dry-docking or ship repair; dredging or related activities; operation of ships, tugs, barges, dredgers and other similar vessels, passenger operations; any liabilities arising in connection with the following cargoes: bullions and precious metal objects, bank notes, coins, cheques, credit cards, bonds, negotiable documents and securities, jewellery, works of art, antiques or precious stones, high value cargoes, live animals, birds, fish and reptiles; "TCP" is never liable for damages that have not been reported.

Article 6: "the Customer" is required to communicate the following in writing to "TCP" before the commencement of the task: the correct and accurate description of the goods, including type, number, weight, condition and risk category; all instructions and limitations connected with the protection, handling and storage of the goods and the execution of the assignment in general. The goods shall carry all necessary markings indicating their characteristics. "The Customer" shall pack the goods required for the execution of the assignment, unless it is customary not to pack the goods. The means of transportations to be made available shall be supplied so that the assignment to be executed can be started immediately, according to the usual method of working. Installations, warehouses and equipment shall be checked by "the Customer" as to their suitability, before being put to use. In the absence of such a check or any motivated reserve, they shall be deemed to have been found suitable. "The Customer" shall safeguard "TCP" against all claims that could arise from a breach of the above obligations, even if the breach is attributable to a third Party.

Article 7: Subject to written obligation to insure, "the Customer" undertakes in respect of "TCP" to bear all risks itself, and waives recourses against itself and/or its insurers. "TCP" waives all recourses against "the Customer" in the case of damages to the installations caused by fire.

Article 8: "TCP" shall carry out the assignment to the best of its ability and in conformity with the customs, usages and regulations of the port.

Article 9: All liability of "TCP" lapses if any claim by "the Customer" is not lodged in writing at the conclusion of the task. Transfer of risk: "TCP" will be liable from the moment "TCP" has accepted the containers at the gate (for valuable goods: from the moment the container is taken from the truck) until the loading on board of the vessel or from the moment of placing in stack (for valuable goods, from the moment of placing the container on the designated truck with chassis) after discharging until loading on vehicle leaving the Terminal. All assessments of damage, measures taken, destructions or replacements if any, have to take place jointly with "TCP", respectively its insurance company, in order to be admitted.

Article 10: Without prejudice to the preceding stipulations, any claim against "TCP" expires one year after the determination of the damage and/or, in case of dispute, one year after the date of invoice, unless an earlier date is fixed by law.

Article 11: Should any article of these general conditions be in conflict with compelling legal stipulations, that article shall be regarded as not written, so that the validity of the remaining articles shall be unaffected.

Article 12: All legal disputes between "the Customer" and "TCP" shall be settled according to these special conditions and Uruguayan law. The Tribunal of Montevideo is the sole competent legal venue. Any translation of this Contract is for convenience only and in the event of disparity the English text shall prevail.

Article 13: Insurance. "TCP" will insure its property related to the Contract against FLEXA (fire, lightning, explosion, air vehicles) including a waiver of recourse against "the Customer" and all other third Parties. "The Customer" will insure its goods stored under "TCP"'s custody against FLEXA (fire, lightning, explosion, air vehicles) including a waiver of recourse against "TCP" and/or their affiliated companies. In case of damage of property of "the Customer" due to FLEXA or any other cause from which "TCP" is exempt from all liability, "the Customer" will remove the remains of these damaged goods stored at "TCP" for his own account. Both "TCP" and "the Customer" will carry general Third Party insurance, as it is customary in Uruguay.

Article 14: “the Customer” shall be fully liable and hold “TCP” and / or its affiliates harmless for any and all damages, losses, fines, taxes, levies, dues, duties and/or any other costs or consequences, due to non-compliance with the procedures.

Article 15: “the Customer” is liable for any damages caused by inherent vices or defects of any object, placed by “the Customer” at “TCP”'s disposal, without considering the cause of or the moment giving rise to that vice or defect.

Article 16: Merely by entering the Terminal, the Parties accept explicitly – in their own name and for account of their employees, suppliers and subcontractors – the regulations, guide lines and notices, which are effective on the Terminal and which exempt “TCP” of all liability for damages in case of accidents concerning persons, goods and vehicles, which occur on the Terminal, outside the scope of this document.

Article 17: “TCP” must insure its labourers in accordance with the Uruguayan Law. Normal labour insurance is included in the “Rate(s)/Tariff(s)”. “The Customer” is to pay extra labour insurance, if imposed, for e.g. ammunition, explosives & other dangerous and/or corrosive goods.

Article 18: The Parties hereby agree that default will be automatic, by the mere expiration of the deadlines or by doing or failing to do something against the agreed terms (article 1336 of the Uruguayan Civil Code). The legal situation of the containers and the cargo is responsibility of “the Customer”. Intervention of legal, judicial, or administrative authorities due to the legal situation of the containers and/or the cargo shall not be considered as a case of force majeure or as a hypothesis of exemption of responsibility for “the Customer”, who will be responsible for all the costs while the containers are kept in the Terminal, even if they are retained at the request of the abovementioned authorities.

Article 19: The Shipper is the sole responsible party for timely providing the VGM data to the Line and/or its Agent. TCP will not be responsible for the lack of VGM data in a correct & timely manner. TCP will not receive the VGM data directly from the Shipper, but from the Line and/or its Agent.

  - b) Units received as per current estimation method that show a difference in excess of 5% between this and the VGM sent after “Gate IN” are subject to restow costs in case said difference causes changes on the Stowage Plan by the Planning Office of the Line.

  - d) In case that the Planning office of the Vessel Provider determines that the above described units can be loaded with Late VGM data, Re-planning cost will be applied.
